

Bell WoodTurners

March 13, 2008

Another First by Gary Taylor

Gary Taylor added another first to his collection of art from the lathe. This time he displayed his superior craftsmanship in turning a tooth pick dispenser. If you haven't visited Gary's office/gallery then you are in for a real treat. For those who have never been to a Saw Dust session at Gary's woodshop you have really missed an excellent opportunity to get some great one-on-one assistance. In addition to Gary, a couple of the Club's highly skilled and experienced craftsmen are usually available to offer their tips and advice along with words of encouragement.

Georgia Symposium

The Georgia Association of Woodturners is having their annual symposium September 19-21, 2008 at Unicoi State Park in Helen, Georgia. They have three internationally known professional woodturners: Jimmy Clews, David Ellsworth and Bonnie Klein plus very talented Atlanta professionals: Nick Cook, and Phil Colson demonstrating their talents.

A Day with Emory McLaughlin

Spend a day with Emory McLaughlin on June 7th at the woodshop of Bill Smith in Newberry, Florida. Emory, who resides in Jacksonville, is becoming a well known professional woodturner throughout the USA. He has demonstrated at AAW National Symposiums and state symposiums in Florida, Georgia, and Utah. He has published articles appearing in American Woodturner and Woodturning Design. His work is available for sale at some of the area's most prestigious galleries. For more information on Emory's accomplishments and turning skills visit his website www.asthewoodturns.com.

The demonstration runs from 9:00 to 4:00 and lunch will be provided. Bill's woodshop is at ABC Stump Removal located west of Newberry on State Route 26. (Look for the woodpile on north side of the road.) Bring your ticket for the door prizes.
