

Bell Wood Turners

October 11, 2007

UPCOMING EVENTS

Election of Directors for 2008 will take place at the November meeting. Nominations from the floor will be accepted. The elected Directors will select the Officers for the upcoming year.

In December the Club will have the annual covered dish dinner in lieu of a regular meeting. All members are encouraged to bring a piece of work to share with the group. More details on this popular event will be discussed at the November Club meeting.

The Club will have booth space again at the annual Bell Christmas parade and art/craft fair. This is an excellent opportunity for members to sell some of their turnings. More details to follow. If anyone has a display tent please let one of the officers know.

AUGUST DEMONSTRATOR

Carl Rehberg was featured at the August meeting. Carl made baby rattle from a piece of cocobolo wood that had been in his shop for some months. He issued a warning to anyone who makes a wooden baby rattle to remember that the baby doesn't know hitting a parent in the head with the rattle can really hurt the parent or grandparent.

SEPTEMBER DEMONSTRATOR

Jimmy Sapp entertained the Club at the September meeting by turning a pen from a corncob. Jimmy might have been one of the first turners in Florida to make a corncob pen. His concept is catching on as the most recent issue of More Woodturning has as story on turning a corncob pen. Jimmy did say to use a small kernel corn or you will lose the markings. We were not able to show the demonstration on the television and members had to gather around to see how a master turner working a skew. Alvin Wallace was the winning bidder for a $20.00 donation to the Club. Thanks to Jimmy for donating the pen.

PROFESSIONAL DEMONSTRATOR

Binh Pho will be giving a demonstration in Jacksonville at the Artisan Design Concepts on November 17th and 18th sponsored by the Northwest Florida Woodturners Association. For details visit www.jaxturners.org.
